

NATIVE OF CHRISTIAN

Mrs. Mollie B. S. Richardson Dies in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Mollie B. S. Richardson, wife of Dr. Theo. J. Richardson, dentist of the state charitable institutions, and son of Rev. W. R. Richardson, pastor of the First Methodist church, died at her home in this city last night at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Richardson was a niece of Adlai E. Stevenson, formerly vice president of the United States. She was married about two months ago. The remains were sent to Orangeburg, S. C., the old family home, today for burial.

Mrs. Richardson was formerly Miss Mollie Brown Stevenson and was reared near Bennetts town, this county. After her marriage to Dr. Richardson on June 30 last she went to Little Rock, where she had since resided. She was a popular teacher in the Christian county public schools for several years and for four years prior to her marriage she taught in Paducah. She was 26 years old and a member of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Richardson had been ill of typhoid fever for some time but the immediate cause of death was uraemic poison.

FIRE SATURDAY NIGHT.

Damage To Building and Furn- iture About $300.

The fire department made prompt answer to a call turned in Saturday night about 9:40, from the residence of H. Thomas Underwood, 218 West Seventeenth street.

When the department arrived it found the house in imminent danger of destruction but prompt action soon extinguished the fire. The building is the property of Tandy D. McGee and the damage to the house and the furniture of Mr. Underwood is estimated at $300. The fire started in one of the bed rooms. The origin is mysterious, as there had been no fire in the room for months.

CHINAMAN CONVERTED

Charlie Chong, a Native of Chi- na, Joins Baptist Church.

Charlie Chong, the Chinese laundryman, united with the First Baptist church Sunday and was baptized at the evening service by Rev. C. M. Thompson. He has been a regular attendant at the Sunday-school for a year or more, in the class taught by Miss Jennie West, County Superintendent of Schools.

AMUSEMENTS.

Better than ever, everything new, the greatest laughing show ever organized and presented by that popular company Coburn's Greater Minstrels will appear at Holland's Opera House next Monday night, Sept. 23. Look at the fun-makers, Charley Gano, he demonstrated last season his ability to please, his versatility, his prestige as one of the best in minstrelsy. Nick Glynn that funny "Nicodemus" one of the funniest, drollest, true to nature black face characters in his line. He is a new face with Manager Coburn, but he is great as a fun maker and a laugh getter. Then Settle, Wilson, Leible, Fisher, singers, dancers, comedians, all new entertainers with this popular attraction. The best male choir in its history, all the latest songs and music all that is good in minstrelsy.

THE WHEAT LECTURE

By Prof. Roberts Was Highly Instructive and Scientific.

It was a very small audience that heard Prof. Roberts' lecture on wheat yesterday. Of course this is a very busy time with farmers, but any of them who would have come to town for a short time would have been well repaid for his trip.

This is about the fourth time the secretary of the B. M. A. has attempted to arouse some interest among farmers in regard to crop improvement, but the farmers either do not appreciate what has been done or they know, or think they know, enough about farming. Monday's effort may be the last. Mr. Roberts is a man that every farmer should hear. He is not a mere theorist, he is practical and has tried every crop that grows in Kentucky, and his talk was plain as well as scientific.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of Mrs. Cavanah Due to Heart Trouble.

Mrs. Isadora Cavanah died suddenly Saturday night at her home on North Liberty street, her dead body being found early Sunday morning. She had been in declining health for some time and death was due to valvular heart disease. Mrs. Cavanah was in the 62nd year of her age and was a daughter of the late John Forbes. She was a member of the Baptist church. The interment took place in Riverside Cemetery Sunday afternoon.

ATTEMPTED ARSON

Firebug Had Designs on Dr. Woosley's Office.

An attempt was made to burn the office of Dr. C. B. Woosley, at Fairview, Friday night. The side of the building was sprinkled with coal oil, but for some reason the blaze went out after it was started. Dr. Woosley telephoned to Nashville for bloodhounds, but no report has been received from the search.

BAPTIST REVIVAL

Will Begin At First Church Early In October.

A revival meeting will begin at the First Baptist Church on the first Sunday in October, in which the pastor, Rev. C. M. Thompson, will be assisted by Rev. J. W. Porter, of Lexington, one of the most eloquent pulpits orators of the Baptist church. Dr. Porter was here a year or two ago and delivered an address to the graduating classes of the county schools at the Court House. He ranks high as an evangelist and a great revival is looked forward to under his preaching.

PURELY PERSONAL.

Nat F. Dortch went to Dawson last week.

John F. Bible returned from Louisville Saturday morning.

D. W. Kitchen returned from a business trip to Chicago last Thursday.

S. A. Pate, Steward of the Western Hospital, attended the State Fair last week.

Col. John Markham, who spent the summer at Dawson, has returned home for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hall, of Evansville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Basler last week.

G. E. Dillman, of Kansas City, is here on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dillman.

D. D. Cayce, of the F. A. Yost Co., went to the State Fair Wednesday, and returned Friday night.

Miss Susie Bible and Miss Frances Campbell will leave this week for Randolph-Macon College, in Virginia.

Mrs. E. M. Lason and little daughter, of Russellville, are visiting Mrs. Georgia Thomas, on South Main street.

Coleman Moore, who spent his vacation here with his parents Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Moore, returned to Danville Friday.

Miss De'l Wadlington, of Gracey, left Saturday for Sweetwater, Tenn., where she will teach expression in Sweetwater College.

Miss Marie Hille left Saturday for Cordell, Okla. Miss Hille will have charge of the music department in Cordell College and give instruction in piano.

Mrs. E. Keegan and Miss Lee Overshiner, who are with Miss Fannie B. Rogers, have returned from the markets, where they have spent some time making a study of fall millinery.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hill and Mrs. Clyde M. Hill and their two children, left Sunday morning for Denver, Col., where they will remain a few days and then go to Los Angeles, Cal., where they expect to make their future home.

Slatter Gets Back.

Horace D. Slatter, the colored correspondent, who was taken to Nashville Friday, fixed up the charge against him of passing a worthless check and returned Saturday. He said he made the check good.

Paul Peck Killed.

Paul Peck, the aviator, was crushed under his Columbia biplane at Chicago, Thursday and killed. His machine turned over while he was doing a spiral in the air.

GEN. NOGI SUICIDES

Following Heathen Custom at Funeral of His Emperor.

Tokio, Sept. 16.—Gen. Count Maresuke Nogi, Supreme Military Councillor, and his wife, the Countess Nogi, committed suicide Friday night following the religious ceremonies in connection with the death of the late Emperor Mutsuhito. The fact that Gen. Nogi and his wife had lost their two sons during the Russo-Japanese War, leaving them practically without family ties, had centered their affections and devotion on the late Emperor Mutsuhito, and it was doubtless the case that upon his death the mind of the old warrior succumbed to the strain.

Gen. Nogi was of the old school and may have been influenced by the Japanese superstition that upon the death of the Lord of the Manor his close dependents and friends should commit suicide in order that the spirit of the deceased should not make the last journey alone.

IDLENESS.

Nearly 50 Colored Men Counted In One Square.

It looked very much like a case of determination not to work when nearly 50 negroes were counted standing around on East Ninth street at 9 o'clock Monday morning, between the railroad and Clay street.

As the contractors for putting down the new streets are willing to give employment for about three months to men physically able to handle a pick; as the Water Company is doing a great deal of work in the way of putting down new pipes; as the Public Service Co. is doing the same thing, and as many farmers can hardly get half the number of hands they now stand very much in need of, we fail to see why able bodied men expect to loiter about the streets and probably may be discouraging those who are disposed to earn their daily food by getting down to honest labor. A vigorous enforcement of the vagrancy law was begun yesterday.

Band Concert.

The third open-air concert by the Third Regiment Band will be given tonight, weather not preventing. It is not probable that Mr. Watson's condition is sufficiently improved for the concert to be given on the Metcalfe lot. Mr. Lebkuecher was in Nashville yesterday, consequently we can not state where it will be.

J. D. Watson, a prominent Mayfield man, has a "patch" of six large stalks of tobacco in his garden and the other night some practical joker placed upon his crop a multitude of large and hungry tobacco worms that devoured his "patch" in one night.

Saturday was the hottest day of the year in Hopkinsville, and the circus crowd was the largest ever seen there. With the exception of a few minor offenses, the best of order prevailed, and the police force is to be congratulated upon the splendid way in which it looked after things. Hopkinsville is just about all right every way you take her now, anyhow.—Elkton Times.

Repels Attack Of Death.

"Five years ago two doctors told me I had only two years to live." This startling statement was made by Stillman Green, Malachite, Col. "They told me I would die with consumption. It was up to me then to try the best lung medicine and I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery. It was well I did, for to-day I am working and believe I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure that has cheated the grave of another victim." Its folly to suffer with coughs, colds or other throat and lung troubles now. Take the cure that's safest. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

His Only Chance.

HOUSEHOLD CARES

Tax the Woman of Hopkinsville the Same as Elsewhere.

Hard to attend to household duties with a constantly aching back. A woman should not have a bad back.

And she seldom would if the kidneys were well.

Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by thousands.

Have been used in kidney trouble over 50 years.

Read what this Hopkinsville woman says:

"Mrs. O. A. McElroy, 622 O'Neal St., Hopkinsville, Ky., says: 'I gave my young son part of a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and I know they did him a lot of good. Before I gave them to him, he used to wet the bed every night. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills was all he needed to strengthen his kidneys and that stopped his bed wetting. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills an excellent remedy for kidney trouble and can highly recommend them.'"

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Axe Murderer Again.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Sept. 13.—The notorious axe murderer who has slain whole families in Iowa, Kansas, Colorado, Oregon, Illinois and other Western states, struck again early today and exterminated the family of Martin Thompson, six miles east of Council Bluffs, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and their three-year-old son. The last attack of the murderer was that at Willisla, Ia., where eight people met their death. A hastily gathered posse is searching for the murderer.

Glorious News

comes from Dr. J. T. Curtiss, Dwight, Kan. He writes: "I not only have cured bad cases of eczema in my patients with Electric Bitters, but also cured myself by them of the same disease. I feel sure they will benefit any case of eczema." This shows what thousands have proved, that Electric Bitters is a most effective blood purifier. Its an excellent remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Price 50 cents. Satisfaction guaranteed by all druggists.

SAW DEED OF GOD IN DEATH

Punishment of an Atheist in 1683 as Described in the Writings of Increase Mather.

Those memorable judgments which the hand of heaven has executed upon notorious sinners are to be reckoned amongst remarkable providences. . . . The hand of God was very remarkable in that which came to pass in the Narragansett country in New England, not many weeks since; for I have good information that on August 28, 1683, a man there (viz. Samuel Wilson) having caused his dog to mischievous his neighbors' cattle, was blamed for his so doing. He denied the fact with imprecations, wishing that he might never stir from that place if he had so done. His neighbor being troubled at his denying the truth, reproved him and told him he did very ill to deny that which his conscience knew to be truth. The atheist then used the name of God in his imprecations, saying, "He wished to God he might never stir out of that place if he had done that which he was charged with." The words were scarce out of his mouth before he sunk down dead and never stirred more; a son-in-law of his standing by and catching him as he fell to the ground.—Written by Increase Mather in 1684.

EVERYTHING NOT IN HARMONY

Thomas W. Lawson Points a Moral From the True Story of a Lovers' Quarrel.

Thomas W. Lawson, who has announced his candidacy for the United States senate an a "high-cost-of-living" platform, said the other day in Boston:

"We can shatter the trusts and combinations that keep food prices up if we go about it resolutely; for these organizations are not nearly so united and harmonious among themselves as they pretend.

"Their ranks are riddled, as a matter of fact, by internal squabbles; though, like Korter, they put the best face possible on the matter.

"Korter, you know, turned up at the office one morning with a black eye and a missing front tooth.

"Just a lovers' quarrel," he explained airily to his brother clerks — 'a lovers' quarrel, that's all.'

"But, Korter," cried the book-keeper, "you don't mean to tell me that dainty Marie Lanigan did all that to you?"

"No," Korter admitted; "it was her other lover."—Los Angeles Times.

COLLECTS THE DUST.

A British engineer has patented an apparatus which, it is claimed, will prevent the clouds of dust raised in dry weather by automobiles and other vehicles. The device, which is simple and inexpensive, collects the dust as it rises. The dust is drawn into conduits, which are funnel shaped at the mouth, and which run from the rear of the front wheels to the rear of the back wheels. These conduits are connected with a box, into which the dust is driven by the pressure of air, or this end can also be accomplished by the aid of a centrifugal fan geared to the driving shaft of the automobile. The contents of the dust box can be discharged by pulling a lever at the front of the vehicle.

HORSESHOE NAILS FOR AFRICA.

The demand for horseshoe nails is fairly good throughout South Africa. Away from the railways the trek wagon, with five to eight pairs of bullocks, is still very much in evidence. Horses, mules and donkeys are used in more populated centers for drawing heavy loads. In the country horses are used chiefly for riding and driving. As the roads are usually quite rough, all these animals require frequent shoeing.

PETTICOAT RULE IN CHINA

Women Always Have Commanded Respect in the Land of Celestials.

As a matter of historical fact, the new woman of China is not quite new. The position of women in China has always been high.

The late empress dowager, who, in her time, received a deal of free advertisement, not of the kindest brand, was no more an exception among the dowager empresses of China than she was a monster.

Mr. Okuda, while he was serving as the third secretary to the Japanese embassy at Peking, made a careful study of the social and commercial life of China and wrote a book. He says that petticoat government is a general thing in China; that the position of her women is even higher than that of her Occidental sisters.

"China is the country which respects and values her women exceedingly," he declares. "A country where woman's power is strong. Even among the lower classes the husband cannot lay a violent hand on the wife, and the matrimonial quarrel has only one end invariably—the victory for the wife."—Adachi Kinnosuke, in the American Review of Reviews.

WAITED LONG FOR REWARD

Great Frenchman at Last Has Obtained Recognition of His Great Work.

J. Henri Fabre, the great French entomologist, greatest of the present day, has lived to be nearly ninety before coming into the fame to which his labors from childhood entitled him. Born of poor parents, he was forced to begin work early in life, but managed to obtain a free education at the college at Rodez, in return for his services in the church choir. He studied Latin and never forgot it. He became an instructor in physics and other studies in the College of Ajaccio, to keep body and soul together. For over forty years his life was one of continuous privations. He wrote books on natural history, but they brought him little financial return. Only recently his true worth became known to the world, and now his writings are well paid for and the lifelong student has a comfortable home near Serignan, France, where he is supremely happy with his beasts and insects.

"Generally debilitated for years. Had sick headache, lacked ambition, was worn out and all run down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman."—Mrs. Chas. Freitoy, Moosup, Conn.

THE ITALIAN TREATMENT.

The Italians resort to a very simple method when they wish to obliterate the injurious effects of salt air and sunshine after a visit to their villas, the shore of the Adriatic, the Tyrrhenian sea or the lakes. They bathe the face with the white of an egg, well beaten, let it dry on the skin and rinse it off in soft water after fifteen minutes. The treatment is repeated three or four times, and always at night just before retiring.

FIRE PROTECTION

Forbes Mfg. Co. Installing Automatic Fire Extinguisher.

The Forbes Manufacturing Co. is erecting the frame work for supporting a large tank for holding water in a sufficient quantity to fill the multitudinous pipes used by the plant of the company in the center of the city. After the completion of the frame work and putting the tank in position the company will install the latest automatic fire extinguisher for the protection of its property. This system has been in use at the Mogul Wagon works since the company began operations. The best explanation that can be given of the automatic extinguisher can be put in very few words. When fire breaks out the different valves are automatically opened when the heat attains a certain pressure and the water begins to flow. It is very simple and in the larger cities has been used many years.

30 UNLIKE THE MAJORITY

Remarkable Action of Automobile Driver Warranted Doubt as to His Sanity.

We came upon the automobile standing upon the brow of the hill. "Hello!" we say to the chauffeur. "Broken down?"

"No, sir," he responds "Out of gasoline?"

"No, sir. We have plenty." "Tire punctured?"

"No, sir. The tires are in perfect condition." "Lost your way?"

"No, sir. The country hereabouts is very familiar."

"Dropped something from the automobile?"

"No, sir. Nothing of the sort."

"Then why are you standing here? Why are you not shooting down the hill and across the level at a terrific speed?"

"I do not care to do that," says the owner of the machine, who has been silent until this moment. "I had my automobile stopped here so that I might enjoy the magnificent view from this elevation."

With a frightened glance at him, we turn and hasten to the nearest town to warn officials that an evidently insane person is at large in an automobile.—Kansas City Independent.

GREED CAUSED SNAKE'S DEATH.

A snake in search of food at East St. Kilda, near Melbourne, Australia, writes our correspondent, came upon a chicken's egg. The snake sucked in the egg, which passed towards the region of his tail in the form of an oval swelling. The snake then raised its head and, perceiving a knot-hole in the wooden henroost wall, inserted its head and the fore part of its body and swallowed a second egg.

On the approach of the owner of the henroost the snake tried to retire, but the second egg would not pass through the knot-hole, and when he tried to advance the egg in his tail equally impeded his progress. Thus "egg-bound" at both ends, the reptile fell a victim to its own greed.

WANTED HIM TO BE RIGHT.

Bank Director—I am surprised, sir, to learn that you drop into our bank every day and whisper tips to our cashier. Don't you know the information must be a great temptation to him to use the bank funds to speculate with?

Wealthy Broker—Yes. "And yet you are a heavy stock holder in our bank."

"Just so." "Then, in the name of common sense, what is your motive?" "Well, the fact is, I don't know whether your cashier is honest or not, but if he isn't honest, and if he does use the bank funds to speculate with, I want him to keep on the right side of the market. See?"

HOME DESTROYED.

Mr. Wills Loses House and Contents By Fire.

The dwelling of Mr. Geo. W. Wills, near Pembroke, was destroyed by fire Sunday night, together with nearly all its contents. The flames originated from the kitchen flue shortly after fire had been started for preparing supper. The loss is $3,000—$2,500 on the house and about $500 on contents. There was $1,000 insurance on the building and $300 on furniture. Mr. Wills' family were at home but he was at Dawson Springs and did not learn of his loss until he returned to this city yesterday morning.

SAYS PUBLIC MUST PAY.

If tips are to be abolished and better wages paid employees, who is going to pay the difference of increase? We must naturally say the public, and why? Because, notwithstanding all belief to the contrary, it would bankrupt most of the hotel and restaurant proprietors to assume the additional expense without raising the prices all around. The alarmingly large percentage of failures in our trade during the last two months is ample proof of that. Competition is so keen nowadays and the craving for sensations and innovations so much on the increase that most restaurateurs in New York city today are shuddering to think what the future might bring.—The Hotel Steward.

THREE DEFINITIONS

Oculist:

A physician who treats pathological conditions of the eye, such as granulated lids, glaucoma, etc., and does eye surgery. He frequently prescribes glasses, however.

Optometrist:

One who is recognized by the laws of 27 States as The Eye-sight Specialist. He does not treat diseased conditions of the eye, nor does he resort to the unscientific practice of paralyzing the muscles of the eyes by the use of belladonna, or other drugs, in making a diagnosis.

Optician:

One who makes and repairs spectacles. He is NOT an eye specialist in any sense, but either simply sells glasses or fills the prescriptions of the Optometrist.

MANY ARE BLIND IN ONE EYE

Person May Suffer This Physical Defect and Go Through Life Without Knowing It.

An English author, Mrs. Francis Vivian Campbell, has brought a damage suit embodying some novel features against a Newcastle steamship line. She complains, among other things, that while on a voyage in the Mediterranean she contracted ptomaine poisoning from the bad food on the Carib Prince, and that, as a result, she had lost the sight of her left eye. Medical testimony was to the effect that the loss of sight was due to blood poisoning and that it was not usual for ptomaine poisoning to affect only one eye. It would appear that Mrs. Campbell was not immediately aware of this loss of sight. One of the physicians who gave testimony in the case said this was not remarkable, that scores of people have been blind in one eye since birth and yet had not realized it. He gave as an explanation that with perfect eyesight one has what is known as a field of vision. A person with one defective eye sees all right but on one side a piece of the view is missing. This one may never notice because he has never seen differently. He said that while the majority of people may find out for themselves that they have a defective eye, or one from which sight has gone, there is a large minority that only make this discovery after many years, and some who go to their graves without ever making it.

HIS REASON

I. M. P. Cunius—Say, lend me a ten-spot, old man.

Mr. Gotrox—If you'd save your own money you wouldn't have to borrow from your friends.

I. M. P. Cunius—Well, it's because I want to save my own money that I borrow from my friends.

BEST KIND OF VACATION.

To be productive of lasting benefit, a vacation should mark a complete change in one environment and habits. Country people find this in going to the city, while city folks flee to the country; those living on the salt water go to the mountains, and vice versa. For this reason camp life has become so deservedly popular. The dweller in a modern city needs to get away for a while from telephones, elevators, subways, automobiles and all the multitude of things that make life easy and convenient, and get back to primitive simplicity. Tent life in the woods or beside lake or stream constitutes the biggest possible contrast with the artificial life of the city, and a vacation thus spent means not only physical recuperation, but a tonic to the spirit, a renewal of kinship with nature's elemental forces.—Leslie's Weekly.

REAMS OF IT.

"They have found a bit of unpublished manuscript by Robert Louis Stevenson. Only a few pages, yet worth their weight in gold."

"Only a few pages, eh?" mused the unsuccessful author. "When I'm gone, what a lot of unpublished manuscript they'll find."

LUCKY BO.

"This is the third time you have been here for food," said the woman at the kitchen door, to the tramp. "Are you always out of work?"

"Yes'm," replied the itinerant. "I guess I was born under a lucky star."

NO SUNDAY BUSINESS.

Church—I see a London medical journal advocates the better airing of banks over Sunday as a means of improving public sanitation.

Gotham—Yes; but wouldn't it be contrary to law for banks to take in drafts on Sunday?

LOYALTY OF THE ELEPHANT

Remarkable Instance of Faithfulness Which Is Only One of Many Placed on Record.

The elephant is said to be the most intelligent of all animals; certainly few four-footed creatures have served man so ably and faithfully. How courageous and loyal they can be is strikingly shown by an incident related by Mr. H. Perry Robinson, in his book, "Of Distinguished Animals."

A native Mahratta prince was engaged in a fierce battle with his enemies, and the struggle raged furiously about the standard-bearing elephant. At the moment when it was ordered to halt, its mahout was killed. The Mahratta forces were borne back; but still the elephant stood firm, and the standard continued to fly.

Accordingly the soldiers of the prince, unwilling to be outdone in courage by an elephant, rallied, and in turn drove the enemy back till the tide of battle swept past the rooted elephant and left it, towering colossal among the slain.

The fight was won, and then they would have had the elephant move from the battle-field; but it waited for the dead man's voice. For three days and nights it remained where it had been told to remain, and neither bribe nor threat would move it. Finally they sent to the home village on the Nerbudda, a hundred miles away, and fetched the mahout's little son, a round-eyed, lisping child. Then, at last, the hero of that victorious day, remembering that its master had sometimes, in a brief absence, delegated his authority to the child, confessed its allegiance, and with the shattered battle harness clanging at each stately stride, swung slowly along the road behind the boy.—Youth's Companion.

CURRENT COMMENT

CREAM OF NEWS COMPILED AND COLLECTED FROM ALL SOURCES

Rev. Dr. Wade of Matteawan, says Thaw is as sane as Roosevelt. How much is that saying?

Beef cattle went to $10.90 in Chicago one day last week, breaking the record for high prices by 15 cents.

Mayor Gaynor is making a big mistake in trying to back up his officers who have violated the eleventh commandment.

Joseph Chamberlain, the London statesman, who has suffered almost complete paralysis for years, is sinking rapidly and the end is likely to come at any moment.

A game of football in Belfast, Ireland, last week, broke up in a free fight in which sixty odd heads were battered and bruised. It looked too much like a scrap for the spectators to keep out.

A Chicago man, operated on for appendicitis, was found to have a pocket knife, a fountain pen and a thimble in his stomach. But, in view of the high cost of living, the poor fellow had to have something to eat!—Owensboro Messenger.

Dr. Jacob S. Wells, of Fargo, N. D., tells how to pick out a wife by examining a girl's teeth. If they have pink-tinted teeth they are all right and will make loving wives, but if their teeth are a dull chalky white pass them by. Girls, show your teeth.

William J. Bryan wired the Democratic national committee that he will take the trail of Colonel Roosevelt, starting from Denver at his own expense. He said he would speak where Roosevelt had spoken through the west and northwest, remaining on the colonel's trail until the election.

Mrs. Jack Johnson, white wife of the negro prize fight champion, killed herself in Chicago Friday. She was formerly Mrs. Clarence Duryea, wife of the wealthy New York club man. She got a divorce in 1910, and two years ago married Johnson in Pittsburgh.

Work is being rushed at the government printing office and the blank forms are to be sent to newspapers and other periodicals throughout the country this week for the filing of circulation statements with postmasters and the postoffice department. The statement will also include the names of the publishers and owners as well as stockholders.

Fear of a clash with United States Senator LaFollette blocked the naming of a full state Progressive ticket by the Wisconsin state convention. Progressive leaders felt that the nomination of a state ticket in opposition to the Republican state ticket would not alone precipitate a fight, but also would prevent support of the Progressive cause by Governor McGovern.

DETERMINES AGE OF VALLEYS

Scientific Computation That Sheds Light on Subject Long a Matter of Dispute.

The erosive power of water is hard to estimate with any degree of exactness. A method of computing the probable age of valleys will therefore be welcome, even if the figures may seem to some open to question. Mons. Joseph Vallot has lately reported the results of his studies of the erosive action of an ancient spring in the valley of Lauroux, near Lodeve, France. This spring produces about 3 1/2 quarts of water a second, and in every cubic meter of water (35,314 cubic feet) Mons. Vallot found 363 grams of calcareous sand. He estimates that the spring erodes 247 pounds of rock daily, or over 45 tons annually. In the course of a century a stream of this size would be able to hollow out a circular cave 52 feet in diameter and 32 feet in length. At the end of 1,000 years it would make a valley 32 feet deep, 64 feet wide and 328 feet long.—Youth's Companion.

DID THE WORK HERSELF

Beryl—Yes, Mrs. Orville Style solved the servant problem immediately after her marriage.

Sibyl—Gracious! How?
"She found out her husband was only making $20 a week!"

HEADACHES AND THEIR CAUSES.

Different kinds of headaches indicate in a measure the trouble which causes them. Headache over the eyes is ordinarily due to trouble with the eyes. Headache confined to the forehead means disturbance of the digestive organs and constipation. Headache at the top of the head is usually due to lack of iron in the blood, anemia. Headache at the back of the head may be due to eye strain, nervous exhaustion, spinal irritation, or some trouble with the internal organs.

The commonest forms of headache are what are usually known as "sick headache" and the neuralgic headache. Some writers consider the two as the same, but there is a purely neuralgic headache.—Dr. Grace Peckham Murray, in Harper's Bazar.

PROVES SNAILS CANNOT SEE.

The inference that snails can see has been drawn from opposite observations—some results indicating an avoidance of light, while others seem to show a preference for light. In a more thorough investigation of Helix pomatia, the vineyard snail, Prof. Emile Yung of Geneva has now proved that their eyes are absolutely sightless. With 176 specimens he made more than 2,000 observations, and in no case was there the slightest evidence of the perception of light or dark spaces, and obstacles were entirely unperceived.

HIS DISMAL VIEW.

No shadow of pessimism had clouded his young life until shortly after his third birthday, when his vaccination was "taking." Not that there was any display of unmanly weakness, for the very sore arm and the rainy weather were both endured with cheerful fortitude; but on the morning of the third day the little man looked out into the weeping landscape and sighed:

"Well, I don't fink this is a very nice world. It takes so long to get morning; and then it takes so long to get night."—Harper's Bazar.

BEACH BELLES.

DIDN'T WANT TO BE HARSH

Merchant Simply Had Idea of Doing a Good Turn to the Young Lady Typist.

"An old customer of mine from the interior of the state came to town a few days ago," said a Philadelphia wholesaler, "and after leaving his order for the goods he asked the privilege of sitting down to my desk to write a letter. I took him to one of the typists and told her to get his letter up in good shape, and the two worked over it for half an hour. Then the man came back to me with his letter in his hand and said:

"Mr. Blank, this typewriting business is a great thing."

"Yes."

"And that's a fine girl who did the work for me."

"Yes!"

"She made her fingers go like lightning."

"Yes, she is very speedy."

"Seemed to be perfectly willing to oblige."

"Yes."

"A very nice girl, indeed, and I hope that she'll get on. In fact, I want to put in a word for her."

"That's kind of you. What is it?"

"Tell her," he said, as he glanced over his shoulder, "that if she'll pay a little more attention to her spelling she'll come out at the top of the heap. Tell her in a way not to hurt her feelings."

"But what words has she spelled wrong?"

"He held out the letter and pointed to a word and whispered:

"The young lady got one 'r' too many in the word, but tell her as gently as possible."

"The word was 'coffee.'"

SHOULD THE WOMAN PROPOSE

Question That Seemingly May Be Referred On to Get an Argument at Any Time.

Ever since this conundrum was put to me, I have been submitting it to everybody I met. There has been extraordinary diversity in the answers. They have run from a shocked "No! No! No!" through a hesitating, "Well, I don't see why—and yet I could never do it myself," to a decided, "Yes, certainly! Why not?"

One woman said: "Under no circumstances. Nothing ever justifies us in forgetting our womanliness." Another: "Yes, indeed. In fact, I proposed to my husband. I saw that he was in love with me, but that he thought that we could not afford to be married. I knew that we could, and so I proposed to him." Another: "Of course women should propose. They are much better judges of character than men, more intuitive and spiritual." Another: "If women proposed, there would be fewer unhappy marriages. As things are, men can choose from their entire set of women. Women can choose only from those who propose to them. If women proposed more of them would marry the man they really wanted to marry." Another: "I think the one should propose who could do it the most artistically." (Note—She was a young girl writer, and I am afraid considerations of literary effects guided her conclusions.)—Harper's Bazar.

MAN'S SOCIALITY OF NATURE

His Interest in His Species Manifest, as Pointed Out by Great Scotch Philosopher.

Man's sociality of nature evinces itself in spite of all that can be said with abundant evidence by this one fact, were there no other: The unspeakable delight he takes in biography. It is written, "The proper study of mankind is man," to which study, let us candidly admit, he, by true or by false methods, applies himself, nothing loath. "Man is perennially interesting to man; nay, if we look strictly to it, there is nothing else interesting." How inexpressibly comfortable to know our fellow creature; to see into him, understand his goings forth, decipher the whole heart of his mystery; nay, not only to see into him, but even to see out of him, to view the world altogether as he views it; so that we can theoretically construe him, and could almost practically personate him; and do now thoroughly discern both what manner of man he is, and what manner of thing he has got to work on and live on!—Thomas Carlyle.

EXERCISE MUST BE KEPT UP

Youthful Athlete Can Not Afford to Allow the Years to Keep Him From It.

If you take much exercise in your early life, you must continue to take more or less exercise all through life; otherwise harmful results may follow. Any part of the body which is not used will atrophy and waste; and the muscular system is particularly liable to this degeneration. Care must be taken, also, that the lungs are used, to a certain extent, every day—because the athlete develops a large lung capacity, and if he does not use his lungs later on in life they will be liable to become diseased. It is not the fault of the exercise which brings this about, but the fault of the neglect, in after life. Keep up a few daily exercises by all means, and particularly breathing exercises. If you do this, it will not only be the means of adding to your general health, but also will add many years to your life.—Physical Culture.

WHY SILVER TARNISHES.

Everybody is familiar with the tendency of silverware to part with its brilliancy and become tarnished when exposed to ordinary atmospheric influences, but not every one knows that the cause of the tarnishing is the action of sulphur in the air. Unless frequently cleaned, the surface of silver will become black in the course of a few months. The best way to keep silver bright without the necessity of cleaning is said to be to coat the surface with a thin solution of collodion varnish diluted with spirits of wine. After being applied with a soft brush the spirit evaporates, leaving a thin, glossy, transparent film on the polished surface. Warm water removes the varnish. Tarnished silver may be restored by careful rubbing with a soft cloth wet with dilute solution of potassium cyanide, one ounce to a quart of water, followed by rinsing.—Harper's Weekly.

WALLOP FOR THE WAG.

Passing a tall building where some workmen were hoisting lumber to the roof with a windlass the Regular Wag put up his hand in mock consternation.

"Hoy, mister," he called to the foreman of the gang, "don't let that fall until I get past, will you?" The foreman looked at the Regular Wag and grinned.

"That's all right," he chuckled, "I guess it wouldn't hurt your head any."

REMINISCENT.

"Good gracious, John, had you no more sense than to take the candidate on that particular street?"

"Why should I not?"

"Didn't you know they are using a steam roller on it?"

Mrs Powell Almost Dead.

Dry Ridge, Ky.—"I could hardly walk across the room," says Mrs. Lydia Powell, of Dry Ridge, "before I tried Cardui. I was so poorly, I was almost dead. Now I can walk four miles and do my work with much more ease. I praise Cardui for my wonderful cure." Cardui is successful in benefiting sick women, because it is composed of ingredients, that act specifically on the womanly constitution, relieving headache, backache, irregularity, misery and distress. Only a good medicine could show such continual increase in popularity as Cardui has for the past 50 years. Try Cardui the woman's tonic.

OF COURSE HE WAS EXCITED

Possible Incarceration of Mother-in-Law Naturally Stirred Up Young San Francisco Man.

A San Francisco mother-in-law went to the orient and, coming back, was caught trying to smuggle in a lot of choice silks.

She had to pay duty and a fine. Then there was talk of a criminal action to follow.

Her son-in-law called on the customs officials. "Is it possible," he asked, in a severe tone, "after my mother-in-law has paid the duty on the stuff and her fine, that you contemplate criminal action?"

"We are considering it," the customs official replied gravely.

"And if my mother-in-law were to be convicted, as she probably would be, she would have to go to jail?"

"I think so."

"Do you mean to tell me you intend to do this to a woman—a woman who has already expiated her fault and recompensed the government?"

"I do; but look here, old chap, don't take this too hard. I've got to do my duty, you know. Don't feel so bad about it."

"Bad!" shouted the son-in-law. "Why, my dear sir, this is the first gleam of sunshine that has entered my home in twenty years!"—Tit Bits.

DUMMY VILLAGE AS TARGET

English Artillery Trained Their Guns on Exact Representation of Small Town.

To test the guns of the brigades of the British Royal Field Artillery, in camp on Dartmoor, Devonshire, a dummy village was specially built as target. The "village," covering twenty acres near Okehampton, was built in three weeks by artificers from the camp, whose inventive and artistic genius was allowed full scope. Seen from about a mile away, it looked like a typical English hamlet. Clustering round a church, were a number of cottages. Strips of canvas were laid through and around the village to represent roads. In the village were representations of children at play and men and women at their daily duties. Near by was a farmyard stocked with dummy cattle. And to complete the scene, there was the village inn.

The buildings were made chiefly of canvas, roofed with corrugated iron and stones taken from the hillsides. It was about 6,000 yards from the point from which the troops fired, and invisible to them. The scheme was that the village was held by an invading enemy.

SAVED BY THE KNEIPP CURE.

A disciple of Kneipp, who taught the curative effects of walking barefoot on the grass, started out shortly after midnight on a recent rainy morning to take the cure in Tompkins Square park.

Though he had a gold watch and a good-sized "wad" in his pockets, he wore an old slouch hat and rough-looking clothes.

As he was nearing the park in one of the streets running to it from the south he suddenly found himself facing a pistol in the hands of a man who apparently had sprung from nowhere.

"Fork over your"—the robber started to say, but stopped. "Why you ain't got any shoes!" he disgustingly exclaimed.

"Ain't got any money to buy any, you see."

But he was talking to the air. The thug had vanished.—New York Mail.

CAUTIONAL.

"Well, sir," said Mabel's father after Algy had asked for the maiden's hand, "she tells me she loves you; but do you think you can afford to pay for all the little luxuries she is accustomed to?"

"Why, yes—that is, if she'll do without the necessities, I can," said Algy.—Judge's Library.

EXPLAINED.

He—They say women's feet are growing larger.

She—That's because we're learning how to put them down.

SUITABLE REGRET.

"I'm sorry such a good fellow as Pat should get in a hole."

"Yes; it is a pity such a broth of a boy should be in the soup."

HERTZ THE REAL DISCOVERER

Marconi Made Practical Success of the Wireless, but Was Not First in the Field.

The principle of wireless telegraphy is easily comprehended. As is known light and heat move in waves whose lengths can be measured. Thus, the sun gives out in every direction light in a series of undulating waves which may not only be measured, but can be deflected, polarized, and so on. Some idea of this may be gained from the well-known fact that when a stone is thrown into a smooth pool of water a series of circular waves extends in all directions. If any floating object comes within these waves they are oscillated.

It was the lamented Prof. Hertz who discovered that electricity, like light and heat, also moves in waves which may be measured. Just precisely how these waves pass through the atmosphere is not wholly understood, but it is believed that they have some relation to ether, which is omnipresent and which is believed to constitute all matter under different negative electrical conditions. In wireless telegraphy a series of Hertzian waves are set up by powerful electrical dynamos or batteries, and these are discharged from the top of a high mast or pole. These waves extend in all directions, and, unless their force is expended by distance they excite certain effects in the receiver of wireless telegraph instruments within the zone, just as the waves disturb chips on a pool. Messages are sent and received somewhat on the plan of ordinary Morse code by wires, in that electrical impulses are regulated so as to spell words according to a code.

To Marconi belongs the credit of making a practical success of the discoveries of others, but to Hertz belongs the credit of making the system possible.

PASSED AN UNQUIET NIGHT

Traveler, Lost in the Bush, Was Glad to Do Without the Blessings of Slumber.

But I had never given a thought to the course I had taken in my gallop across the veldt. I kept on and on, and before long it grew dark and somewhat cold. So I dismounted, and after thinking it over, I knee-haltered the horse and let him go, crept head first into a large ant-bear hole for a night's lodging, and made myself as comfortable as possible under the circumstances, using the blesbok hide for a blanket. The night was dark as pitch.

Sleep was out of question. I suppose it was the haunches and the raw hide that attracted the creatures, but before long it really seemed as if I had settled down in a village of wild pigs and insulted the whole community. To begin with, squealing incessantly, they seemed to be racing round and round in a circle, taking me for its center. Then a number of jackals drawing nearer and nearer, joined in the chorus. But I soon discovered that if I disliked the noise I fairly dreaded the silence. During the quiet spells I knew that something was chewing industriously at the projecting ends of the raw hide in which I was enveloped. It was hard work for me to keep from kicking incessantly, but whenever I rested for a minute the chewing developed into vigorous tugs, the significance of which it was easy for one in my position to appreciate.

However, I kicked the night through in safety, and early in the morning, to my delight, I found my horse a short distance away, nibbling contentedly at his breakfast.—Atlantic Monthly.

Most Popular Character.

Charles Dickens once received an invitation to a "Walter Scott" party, each guest being expected to attend in the character of one or another of Scott's heroes. On the eventful night, however, greatly to the astonishment of the assembled Rob Roys and Waverleys, Dickens turned up in ordinary evening dress and apparently quite unconcerned. At length the host, who was feeling uneasy, came up to the novelist and inquired:

"Pray, Mr. Dickens, what character of Scott's can you possibly be supposed to represent?"

"Character!" said Dickens. "Why, sir, a character you will find in every one of Scott's novels. I," he went on smilingly, "am the 'gentle reader.'"

Terrible Ordeal.

"It was perfectly frightful," said Chubbleigh. "There we ran at top speed around the corner, and the first thing I knew we dashed plumb into that grocer's wagon. I guess it must have held a hundred dozen eggs."

"Oh, well, that wasn't so bad, was it?" said Hicks. "You could afford to pay for 'em, couldn't you?"

"Oh, it wasn't that," said Chubbleigh, with a shudder. "But I don't believe there was a good egg in the whole lot!" —Harper's Weekly.

Already Accomplished.

A reader asked the sage for advice, saying:

"I am engaged to Kate Murphy, but my former fiancée, Kate Dooley, threatens to sue me for breach of promise. Can you advise me how to extricate myself from this difficulty?"

The reply of the sage was short. It ran:

"My dear reader, if I may say so you seem to have extra-kated your self already!"

CURED IMBECILE CHILD.

A remarkable operation has been performed with great success on an imbecile child by Prof. Erwyn Payr, director of the surgical clinic attached to the Leipzig university. The professor planted a piece of the thyroid gland taken from a healthy child born of a healthy mother into the liver of an imbecile child, who immediately afterward began to improve in intelligence, which steadily increased until a complete cure was effected and the patient was discharged from the clinic.

ON THE FENCE.

"Is your husband a conservative or a progressive?"

"He says he is a progressive in politics, but I notice that he is very conservative when it comes to fixing the allowance I am to have for household expenses."

A Lead Pencil Danger.

In the United States the danger of putting pencils in the mouth has long been recognized, and in all the schools every precaution is taken to prevent the interchange of pencils as well as the moistening of them with the lips. A great many children and even their elders, who ought to know better, persist in putting pencils in their mouth regardless of the risk they run.

SERIES OF MEETINGS

To Begin at South Union Baptist Church Oct. 13.

A protracted meeting will begin at South Union Baptist church, Church Hill, Sunday, Oct. 13. Rev. H. E. Gabby, the pastor, will be assisted in the meeting by Rev. John Mein, of Cadiz. The series of meetings scheduled to begin at Locust Grove church last Sunday has been postponed until November.

Value of Contentment.

A contented mind is the greatest blessing a man can enjoy in this world, and if, in the present life, his happiness arises from conquering his desires, it will arise in the next from the gratification of them.
